1. How are you tempted to follow mere external conformity in worship? (eg. attendance as a substitute for holiness, service as a replacement for righteousness, clothing as a sign of godliness, etc.)
2. What are the internal idols that tempt you most when it comes to worship? (eg. traditions, music style, dress code, liturgy, etc.)
3. How do you seek to manipulate God by trying to manage his expectations according to your desires?
4. What can you do to guard continually against practicing religion without reality?
