

Questions for reflection – 1 Samuel 18-19

1. Can you think of times in your experience when you could recognize God's work in your life, but only in hindsight?
2. Could Jesus' continual intercession on our behalf be a model for our prayer habits? How do you intercede for others? How do you keep from growing lax in this?
3. Have you come to expect that God will work in only certain ways?
4. What do your prayers and actions reflect about your expectations for God's work? Do they assume God is synonymous with status quo? Do they presume that God is always at work and desires & delights to use you?
